

DO NOT EXPECT TO PROSECUTE

United States District Attorney Says That He Has Not Been Notified Yet.

STILL PAYING ALL THE DEPOSITORS

Panic In Chicago Was Averted Only By Cool Work Of
The Other Bankers Coming To The Front.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 19.—Depositors of the Chicago National and the Home Savings banks gathered early this morning, taking the police unawares and great confusion resulted. Applicants are now getting their money as fast as tellers can count it. This morning United States District Attorney Morrison said he received no official notice of any intention of prosecution of officials. He said he could not anticipate what the proper authorities will do, and could not investigate the action until the official notice of Ridgely and Bosworth was made. He said if any reputable citizen made proper representations, he would take cognizance. State's Attorney Healy said he was not making an investigation on his own account, as he had received no complaints. Ridgely appeared at the bank this morning to complete his investigation. He expects to complete it today and start for Washington.

Walsh went to the bank at ten-thirty. He refused to talk, but appeared confident and smiled when asked if he feared criminal proceedings.

There is a provision in the federal statutes prohibiting a national bank from making a loan in excess of a limited amount of its resources—10 per cent of its capital stock—to any one firm or corporation. It also is complained of as an evil, although not expressly forbidden by statute, that managing bank officers sometimes are interested in outside enterprises that tempt them to negotiate loans from their own banks.

Although reports of the conditions prevailing in connection with the Chicago National reached Washington, the subsequent examinations by federal bank examiners showed nothing wrong. And the reason was, according to bankers, that when the federal examiner visited the bank to perform his duty, a sufficient number of the Walsh securities to reduce the visible loans to his enterprises to a minimum would be transferred to the Home Savings and to the Equitable Trust, and in place of them there would be found securities to balance, taken from the two subsidiary institutions.

Likewise, when the state examiners looked into the affairs of the incorporated institutions, the securities belonging to them, which would have attracted unfavorable attention, were exchanged temporarily for securities of other character from the Chicago National.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

Montenegro Assembly.
Cettinje, Dec. 19.—The first session of the new assembly, the first to be granted to the people of Montenegro by Prince Nicholas, opened here today. Special masses and patriotic celebrations were held in commemoration of the event.

Diplomats The Guests.
Washington, Dec. 19.—The second of the series of four dinners, given by Vice-President and Mrs. Fairbanks in honor of society at the capital, takes place tonight. The diplomatic corps will be the special guests.

Another Bank.
Bedford, Ind., Dec. 19.—The Walsh bank failures resulted today in a run on the Bedford National bank, of which Walsh is president. Money was arriving all night to stem the attack.

Little Booty.
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 19.—Robbers blew the safe of the bank at Baldwin, Ill. They exchanged shots with citizens and escaped with little booty. Nobody was hurt.

Obbery.
Idell, Iowa, Dec. 19.—The bank in this city was robbed this morning by dynamiters and six hundred dollars taken.

The Czar's Name Day.
St. Petersburg, December 19.—Today is the name day of Emperor Nicholas, but the movements about the royal palace have been shrouded in so much mystery of late that no one is able to say whether there will be issued a manifesto granting national reforms or not. The newspapers are hoping that they will be allowed freedom of speech, but up to the present calling the press censorship is as rigorous as ever. Certain editors talk of discontinuing their papers until they are allowed more liberty of expression. A long list of honors was gazetted today, but it consists principally of army officers and attaches who have remained loyal throughout the disturbances of the past few months. The day was marked by the usual observances.

In Washington.
Washington, Dec. 19.—Among the presidential nominations today are: assistant treasurer of the United States at Philadelphia, Joseph H. Bosler; collector of customs, L. M. Millicent, Duluth, Minn.; judge of the court of claims, Samuel S. Burney, Wisconsin.

Have Gone Home.

Explosion Opposite the Waldorf
Astoria This Morning—
Many Injured
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
New York, Dec. 19.—Three workmen were killed and at least ten injured in an excavation by a premature explosion of dynamite, at Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, this morning. The scene is directly opposite the Waldorf-Astoria, the dining-room of which was crowded. One victim was blown to the roof of a neighboring building and others terribly mangled.

Two of the men entombed at Long Island City were rescued badly exhausted.

Rescuers Working.
New York, Dec. 19.—Rescuers are working hard to release a number of men entombed in a cave-in in the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel at Long Island City. They are now in danger of drowning in the waters from New York creek. The mouth of the sewer there is being stopped up.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
New York, Dec. 19.—Miss Margaret Louise Snow, daughter of Mr. Thomas C. Platt, was married here today to Mr. Francis J. Carmody, of Minneapolis, Minn., at the church of the Ascension. The wedding was a brilliant affair, attended by a number of prominent society folk and people prominent in the world of politics. The bride was given away by her step-father, Senator Thomas C. Platt, who came over from Washington to be present at the ceremony.

JAPS WILL PROTEST AGAINST EXCLUSION

Committee Seeking Opportunity to Gain an Interview with President Roosevelt.
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
Washington, Dec. 19.—Reports received here are to the effect that a committee of prominent Japanese are seeking an opportunity of calling upon President Roosevelt to protest against the proposed legislation excluding Japanese from entering the United States. The bill for this legislation is fathered by Representative McKinley of California, a newly elected member, who for the past four years was assistant United States district attorney in San Francisco, charged with the special duty of enforcing the Chinese exclusion act. The California delegation to congress, which is for the measure to a man, state that there are 60,000 Japanese in California and nearly 100,000 in the United States. In the last year over 7,000 Japanese came to this country from the Hawaiian Islands. Members of the delegation say the rapid influx of Japanese is regarded as a menace to American labor. The conditions which have inspired the bill are the same as those which brought about the Chinese exclusion act twenty-two years ago, it is claimed.

MRS. COREY IN NEW YORK FOR DIVORCE?

It is Said That Her Mission is to Complete Arrangements for Suit Against Husband.
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
New York, Dec. 19.—Mrs. William Ellis Corey, wife of the president of the steel trust, who, it is said, will sue her husband for a divorce, arrived here today from Pittsburgh. It is understood that she comes for the completion of arrangements regarding the suit. It is also understood that the co-respondent to be named in the case will be Miss Mahellie Gilman, the comic opera singer, who is now in Europe, studying music with Mr. Corey's sister. The case has caused a sensation not only in social circles, but in business circles as well, and there is a persistent rumor that Mr. Corey will resign as head of the steel trust at the end of the year, as a result of the scandal. Mrs. Corey has the moral support of all of her husband's relatives, it is understood, except the sister in Paris with Miss Gilman, and from the beginning of her trouble she has been assisted by Mrs. Charles M. Schwab, who has closed her doors to Mr. Corey.

Own Home.
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
Chicago, Dec. 19.—Mrs. Berta Buchniwicz, aged forty, was shot dead by her husband, August Buchniwicz, aged forty-five, this morning on the street in front of her house. The man had been driven away by his wife on account of his habits and he sought to return. They met this morning and quarrelled and he then killed her and probably fatally shot himself.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN PARLIAMENT MEETS

Stormy Scenes Are Anticipated—Government's Program Includes Benefits for Hungarians.
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
Budapest, Dec. 19.—Parliament, which was prorogued so suddenly in October last, reassembled today. The stormiest scenes are anticipated because of the intense opposition of the Hungarians to the emperor's program. The government's program of reforms, as issued by Baron Ferdy, provides for universal secret, and direct suffrage, and the maintenance of the joint customs territory until 1917, when it is expected the establishment of an independent customs territory will be possible. The program includes a number of other reforms, one of the most pleasing of which to the Hungarians is the offering of Hungarian regiments by Hungarian officers.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 19.—In response to appeals from Consul General Rodgers of Shanghai, the cruiser Baltimore, in command of Captain Nathan Sargent, formerly an aide to Dewey, arrived at Woosung, the port of Shanghai, this morning to protect Americans and other foreigners. Afraid of Mob.
Shanghai, Dec. 19.—Merchants are afraid to open their stores for fear of looting. The British cruiser Diadem will land 500 more marines today and German troops are hurrying from Kiau Chiau.

WRECKERS SUCCEEDED IN THEIR ATTEMPT

Santa Fe Train Wrecked by Criminals Who Ruined the Track—
One Killed.
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
Topeka, Kas., Dec. 19.—Wreckers this morning derailed a Santa Fe train near Lang this morning and caused the death of Elmer Derrick, the express messenger, and injured five others. This is the fifth time an attempt to wreck the train was made. Spikes, angle bars and bolts were removed and the train plunged down a twenty-foot embankment and was partly destroyed by fire. Derrick's body being consumed.

MERELY A POINT IN LAW FOR PACKERS

Jurymen Are Told by the Court This Morning in the Exam-nation.
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
Chicago, Dec. 19.—Judge Humphrey, in the packers cases today, announced to the venturers being examined for the jury that if the law of immunity relieved the packers of responsibility the should be discharged. He declared the matter was largely a point of law to be decided by the court and he wanted the jury to accept the directions from the court as to such points, regardless of contrary opinion of their own.

LOSES TWO FINGERS UNDER CAR WHEELS

Charles Zwarra Reached for Hat
Which Had Blown Off, When the Train Suddenly Moved.
About eleven o'clock Saturday night Charles Zwarra, who resides on Hickory street, met with a strange accident, which resulted in the loss of the ring and little fingers of his left hand. He was en route home, walking along the railroad track, when a sudden gust of wind caught his hat and carried it under a train of freight cars. He followed the headgear and had no more than touched it when the train without any warning backed. A protruding portion of a car struck Zwarra and he was thrown before he was able to pull his hands away. The two fingers thus caught were ground under the wheels. Dr. Woods was summoned and took the man to the Palmer hospital, where it was found necessary to remove the three joints of both members. The unfortunate man is still in the hospital, but getting along excellently.

HAS ABDICATED STATE THRONE

Governor La Follette Decides To Go To The United States Senate Next January.

SIGNED ALL THE BILLS OF SESSION

However Adds Proscript To The Appropriation Of Ten Thousand For University Examination
In Protest.

[Special by Scripps-McRae.]
Madison, Dec. 19.—The end has come. Czar Robert the First has abdicated. He has sent his official ukase to the state legislature that after the first Monday in January he will be a United States Senator and the reins of state government will be handed down to Lt.-Governor James Davidson. After almost a year's delay, almost a year spent in juggling with the wishes of the people and in lecturing throughout the country, Robert M. La Follette will step down and out of the Governorship and up and into the Senate. In his official ukase to the state legislature, in an extraordinary session assembled, he makes his official statement. All the bills, seventeen in number, passed during the extra session of two weeks, were approved by the governor. He attached a memorandum to a bill providing for an investigation of the university, raising the question that this bill was not germane to the call for the extra session, and, therefore, perhaps open to attack, but he signed it lest a vote might operate to prejudice the people against the institution. He also declared the $10,000 appropriation contained in the bill for an investigation as extravagant, but he expressed confidence that the legislative committee of investigation would exercise economy. The extra session adjourned sine die at noon.

FEW RESULTS OF SPECIAL SESSION

LEGISLATURE HAS COST CONSID-ERABLE; DONE NOTHING.

LITTLE WAS ACCOMPLISHED

All Pet Administration Measures Are Lost in the General
Revolt.
[SPECIAL BY SCRIPPS-McRAE.]
Madison, Wis., Dec. 19.—The special session of the legislature just closed passed favorably upon 17 bills, which if given the approving signature of the governor will become laws. There were introduced in the assembly 17 bills and seven in the senate, a total of 24 in both houses. Of the 17 bills introduced in the assembly, eleven were passed through both houses and have been sent to the governor. The remaining five bills fell by the wayside. Three of them—two for change of the form of ballot and one providing for "second choices" in primary elections and called the "Mary Ann" bill—were killed outright in the assembly, one, the proposal to repeal the fishway law, returned to its author, Mr. Potter, its purpose being accomplished by another bill which passed both houses, and two—the repeal of the Dunn pocket ballot law and the Hagen bill to eliminate charges—were killed by the senate. The purpose of the Hagen bill was involved in another measure.

There were seven bills introduced in the senate, all but one of which passed both houses. This was the bill of Senator Sanborn to give the railroad rate commission power to make joint rates when the railroads fail or refuse to make them. The purpose of this bill was later involved in another measure so that its passage was rendered useless.

Two important joint resolutions were adopted and one was killed, but one of those adopted was a modification of the provisions of the one killed. The important joint resolution that was killed was that providing for a general, searching legislative committee investigation of life insurance companies, railroads, corporations generally and political organizations and committees. This was adopted by the assembly but went to its defeat in the senate. A modification, however, the Sanborn resolution, providing for an investigation of insurance companies, was adopted by the senate and concurred in by the assembly. The other important joint resolution was the providing for a legislative committee investigation of the conduct, finances, management and administration of the state university. Both the resolutions adopted are covered by accompanying bills.

Summing up the whole work of the special session, it is found that the brief session brought positive results in the shape of legislation. Of the 24 bills introduced only seven failed to be enacted as far as the two houses of the legislature is able to do it. One of the seven was returned and two killed because their provisions were enacted satisfactorily in other bills. Only four of the 24, therefore, or one bill in every six introduced were killed because the principle and changes involved in them failed to meet the approval of a necessary number of members. These measures have to do exclusively with election matters. One was the Potter bill to repeal the Dunn pocket ballot law enacted at the last regular session. This passed the assembly, but was killed by the senate, a majority of that body being in favor of giving the voters a chance to say in the next election whether or not they want the "Fourth of July" multicolored ballot scheme invented or patented at least by Mr. Dunn.

The "Mary Ann" bill, another to fall, provided for the voting of secand choices in primary elections so as to approach more nearly to majority nominations. It was the subject of a large part of the governor's message, held the attention of the assembly in fierce debates on the floor, was killed and an unsuccessful attempt made to resuscitate it. The vote on its first defeat was 43 to 42. The other two bills, killed were the ballot change measures. They were designed to satisfy the recommendations of the governor with respect to the reduction of the power of the "straight ticket" in elections. One, the adaptation of the Massachusetts law, advocated by Assemblyman Warner, providing for the elimination of the "straight ticket" circle and the grouping of candidates by the office sought, rather than by political party, and requiring the voter to mark individually the name of each candidate for whom he desires to vote, was defeated by an exceedingly close vote, it being a tie on the question of advancement to third reading, 43 to 43.

In brief the provisions of the bills passed are as follows:

Revising the capital building law.

Revising and strengthening the Superior grain inspection law.

Authorizing temporary loans from the general fund for the maintenance of the state university.

Revising the fishway law so as to give the affected property owner the right to a hearing and appeal if the decisions of the fish commission in respect to the requirement of fishways in dams are objected to.

An amendment to the railroad rate commission law, allowing free transportation for public purposes, providing a remedy for dangerous grade crossings, and giving the commission the power to compel the railroad companies to keep accounts of the business transacted in Wisconsin and to keep state business separate from interstate business in their systems of accounting.

A bill to provide the necessary funds for a legislative committee investigation of the university.

To prevent railroads from bringing suit against the state over bringing taxes are paid, requiring the payment of taxes now in litigation, and giving the railroads the right to sue the state to recover any taxes that the courts may hold were unlawfully assessed.

Providing for the appointment of primary election inspectors in February rather than in September, and the appointees to serve in the spring and fall elections.

Providing for the necessary appropriation for the legislative committee investigation of life insurance companies.

Revising the law for county aid for building and repairing of bridges.

Limiting the signatures on primary nominating petitions to ten per cent of the party vote of the district.

Directing the attorney general to bring suit against the railroads for the unpaid license fee taxes and charging 15 per cent interest for the amounts withheld.

Renewing the provision that in case the railroads win the ad valorem tax cases, the 15 per cent interest penalty for other taxes withheld shall be in force. This is a technical renewal act.

Providing that the state tax commission in changing the local property assessments for the purpose of calculating the railroad tax rate, shall designate the kinds of property so changed in assessment.

Providing for registration in Milwaukee prior to the primary elections.

Giving the railroad rate commission power to establish joint railroad rates whenever the interested railroads refuse, neglect or fail to make such rates.

Elmer McCaslin, who was shot by his cousin, Jesse McCaslin, in a quarrel due to jealousy over Mrs. La Verne Holmes, died at East St. Louis, Ill., never having regained consciousness. Jesse McCaslin is in jail.

Labor Notes

The German Housewives' society of New York, is an organization for promoting efficient domestic service. The body held its semi-annual meeting on October 25, and a number of prizes were awarded to servants who have stayed members of the organization two years or longer.

Replying to a denunciation of employers who asked that certain amendments be made in some labor legislation, the New Zealand Premier urged the holding of a conference between the representatives, employers and the workers. If such a gathering was arranged, he said, he would regard it as a national affair, and would ask parliament to delay the expenses.

President Sexton, in his address to the recent British trade union congress, held at Hawley, England, stated that the unemployed workmen's act, just passed by the British government, is a source of danger, enabling the employers to point to an overabundance of labor.

The Melbourne, Victoria, Trades Hall congress has passed a resolution emphatically protesting against General Booth's immigration scheme, or any scheme of immigration, until the lands of Australia are unlocked to Australians by a compulsory land purchase act being placed on the statute books.

Statements made by leaders of both workmen and employers in the building trades to the effect that the building industry in New York city is facing an even more bitter war than that which played such havoc in 1923. Trouble is fast brewing, they declare, and it cannot be staved off longer than next spring, they add, if so long.

NEW POST OFFICE SHOWS PROSPERITY

Evansville Office Has Recently Moved Into Larger, Better and More Convenient Building.

[Special to the Gazette.]

Evansville, Dec. 19.—The Evansville postoffice, which has been located in the building owned by Byrne Campbell for about twenty years, has been moved across the street into the building owned by the Eager estate.

The equipment of the new postoffice varies from the other primarily in that it includes a modern outfit providing an automatic keyless lock, which does away with the annoyance of mislaying or losing keys and permits the several members of the family to get mail at will. The outfit provides for a convenient private office for the postmaster and money-order and registry room in front of the postoffice proper. One extra large window is prominent at the front of the mail boxes at which stamps are sold and mail delivered. The mail boxes both lock and call, are especially arranged as regards light. This part of the building is entirely set off at the rear by wrought iron grating from the general workroom and the R. F. D. carriers' workroom which is at the rear of the building, providing thereby excellent light for their work also.

The most popular feature of the change thus far seems to be in the fact that the lobby is open now at 9 a. m. a plan impossible heretofore owing to a joint occupancy of the other building, a jewelry store and newsstand occupying half of the lobby in the former office. The change was made owing to the increase in the business done largely to the establishing of five R. F. D. routes which serve about twelve hundred people. No one business change in our city within the past decade speaks so convincingly of our general growth and steady prosperity, as all know that all government appropriations are based upon the receipts of the offices. If the postmaster, Miss Marilla Andrews, has in any way been responsible for this change for the public foot greatly indebted to her.

SUGAR TALK THAT REVEALS A PLAN

BET SUGAR AND TOBACCO MEN
BEFORE CONGRESS COMMITTEE.

TALK ABOUT REDUCTION

Gives Striking Illustrations of What Would Happen if the Present
Bill Passes.

[By William Will Smith.

(Special Correspondence.) Washington, D. C.—The contest over the Philippine tariff bill has waxed hot and it is by no means certain this project of Secretary Taft, Governor Wright and the English and Chinese firms operating in the Orient, will have a clear passage through the house. The beet-sugar men have refused to their support, the farmers producing the beets, and the tobacco manufacturers have lined up the workers in their factories as well as the farmers who raise the tobacco and the beet dealers who handle it.

In a nutshell, the proposition is—shall we benefit an alien race at the expense of Americans engaged in two industries? Ethically, there is no question of the position of the American people, for having charged ourselves with the burden of "the little brown man" we ought to support him, but practically speaking, there are many difficulties in the way and the chief of these is that certain classes of Americans object to "the little brown man" being benefited solely at their expense. Sugar and tobacco produce the major part of the revenues of the United States in customs, duties and internal revenue. It is an open question whether it is wise to strike at these two industries and sources of revenues to benefit half-breed savages. The beet sugar men in the house have been rallying their forces in caucus and count on some forty to seventy votes against the bill. They hope to combine with the representatives of the tobacco districts and by the aid of democratic votes, beat the proposition.

The growers of high-class tobacco in the United States, tobacco grown from Sumatra and Havana seed, and in many instances grown under shade, presented a strong protest at their hearing. They told of the enormous profits in growing Havana seed tobacco for filler and Sumatra seed tobacco for wrappers in Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, and Texas under the present protective tariff. Particular stress was laid on the growing of wrapper tobacco, as that, in the case of Sumatra tobacco, pays a duty of $1.75 per pound and large investments have been made in attempting to produce in this country a wrapper equal to the Sumatra wrapper, as for such tobacco fancy prices ranging from $1.75 to $2.25 can be obtained. The witnesses told the general sentiment of the tobacco trade, growers, cigar manufacturers and workers, to the effect that if Philippine tobacco is admitted under the terms proposed—25 per cent. of the duty free—and only with the tobacco industry of the United States be seriously injured, but its future development prohibited. One witness wanted "a Florida and paying seventy-five cents to $1.25 per day for his labor, to say nothing of the expense of fertilizers, could compete with Philippine plants paying fifteen cents a day and under the expense for fertilization. The committee, especially Messrs. Grosvenor, Payne and Hill, who visited the Philippines last summer, were inclined to ridicule the arguments of the tobacco growers, but their industry was in any danger from Philippine tobacco, but the growers insisted that it was not the present production of the Philippines either in quantity or quality they feared, but the immense possibilities of the islands and as the reduction in tariff was proposed for the purpose of developing those possibilities, it could be reasonably expected they would be developed, and it was this they feared. The political aspects of the question were also briefly touched upon, in that the witnesses attempted to show the inconsistencies of such standpoints as Payne, Dabell and Grosvenor in an address against a reduction of the tariff on anything in the world except sugar and tobacco, while against these two industries they were willing to strike. One witness wanted to know why Mr. Hill of Connecticut, who had been so vigorous an advocate of high tariff on tobacco for the benefit of his constituents, had changed his views. Mr. Hill, a warm advocate of the Philippine bill, especially since his trip to the Orient with Secretary Taft's party, replied that he had not altered his views, whereupon the witness said he was greatly pleased to learn of it as he had apparently been misled, at which there was considerable laughter at Mr. Hill's expense.

Messrs. E. M. Phelps of Windsor, Conn., and J. H. Spear of Enfield, Conn., raised of Sumatra seed tobacco, told of the trials which they, in common with other Connecticut farmers had experienced attempting to produce a tobacco equal to Sumatra seed and pleaded with the committee not to endanger the success of these experiments for the benefit of an alien people. J. H. Wexham of New York spoke at length on the experiments being conducted in Florida and Georgia with the growing of Sumatra seed under shade. He represents a firm who not only grow Sumatra in this country, but are the largest importers of this tobacco in the United States. He stated that within the past ten years his firm had spent approximately five million dollars in developing their plantation at Amsterdam, Georgia, which they named after Amsterdam, Holland, the center of the Sumatra tobacco trade, and in purchasing tobacco from the farmers. They had about three thousand acres under canvas for shade grown tobacco and a plantation of 25,000 acres. For next year's crop of seed Havana tobacco for filler purposes they had already contracted for 18 to 22 cents per pound, although the tobacco had not even been planted. His firm was planting Sumatra seed in Florida and grew tobacco with and without shade from Havana and Sumatra seed for various purposes.

G. M. McFarland, who raises tobacco in Florida under canvas and without, told the committee they were trying to stretch their consciences by degrees; that if the Philippines were Americans they ought to be treated as Americans and every vestige of the tariff removed; if they were foreigners they should be treated as such and the tariff bars kept up. Florida had ten million dollars invested in the industry of growing tobacco and 100,000 people were engaged in it. The committee now proposed to figure if not destroy this industry for the benefit, not of men of their equal, but of low, cheap, and worthless labor. Mr. McFarland gave an interesting resume of the conditions of the tobacco industry in the southern states and said if they were left alone they could do very well, but unless the committee permitted them to remain as they were, they could do nothing. Representative Payne sarcastically inquired if there was not a good profit in the business as it was conducted now. "Why certainly, I would not be in it if there was not," was the reply. "I would go for your business," at which there was laughter during which Representative Grosvenor said: "Not from the state of Florida with your protectionist views."

D. A. Shaw, representing the Florida Tobacco company, reviewed the history of tobacco growing in Alabama, Georgia and Florida and vigorously maintained that if the Philippines continued quantities of iron ore and coal so that steel rails could be produced there more cheaply than in the United States, certain members of the committee who were willing to have free trade with the Philippines at the expense of the sugar and tobacco industries would be violently opposing a bill to admit steel rails from the islands free of duty.

The members of the Ways and Means committee have grown rather restive under the intimations so freely made by the representatives of the sugar and tobacco industries, that they are ready to benefit the Philippines at the expense of the tobacco and sugar interests, where, if some of the forces protected by the tariff were affected, they would maintain a different position. They are also offended at the covert threat that if they make war upon these interests they will be regarded by opposing their reduction. Representative Hill of Connecticut has been industriously engaged in attempting to convert his constituents among the tobacco raisers to the view that if the tariff of Philippine tobacco is reduced, they will have a wider market for their Sumatra seed wrappers, but apparently he has made no impression upon Messrs. Phelps and Spear who appeared before the committee. Mr. Payne was confronted by Mr. C. H. Upson, a tobacco raiser of New York, who differed with his views. Between the influence which the tobacco farmers and dealers, the cigar manufacturers and cigar workers can exert, coupled with that of the beet sugar manufacturers, and the farmers who produce their raw material, the path of the Philippine tariff bill seems to be quite as rocky as it was last session. If not more so. While the bill has a clear majority in the committee, it is more than probable there will be three or four votes against it and its appearance in the house will be the signal for a revolt by a number of the republicans. As far as the democrats are concerned, they will make their fight on absolute free trade except in the case of representatives of tobacco and sugar growing districts. Putting this, it is not improbable that they will combine with the republican insurgents to fight the 25 per cent bill.

—FORTY YEARS AGO—

Janesville Daily Gazette, Tuesday, December 19, 1895.—Fatal Casualty.—A stranger, giving his name as Nelson Grifley, and stating that he was from Oswego, N. Y., and who was apparently about 45 years of age, fell from the upper railroad bridge upon the ice beneath, last night, and was found this morning, by the coopers working in a shop near where the accident occurred. When picked up he was found to have sustained a fracture of one of his legs, both above and below the knee, and to have his knee pan crushed, it being manifest also that he was seriously injured internally. The broken bone above the knee was driven through and protruded from the flesh. The unfortunate man was first taken to the coopers' shop and afterwards removed to the Hyatt House, where Dr. Harvey and Butler did all that medical skill could do for him, but he died in a very short time, retaining consciousness to the last. He gave his name, place of residence and stated that he had two sons in the army. On his person were found two or three dollars in money, a pocket knife and a few other small things of little value. One of the men who assisted in carrying him in, says the injured man told him he was on the midnight train, and when it stopped on the tracks always do before coming onto the bridge he got off supposing the station was reached. When the cars moved on, and he discovered his mistake, he attempted to follow, with the fatal results above named.

P. S.—Since the above was set up in type, one of the railroad men who has looked at the dead man, is quite certain that his real name is Nelson Horton, of Oakland, Jefferson County, Wisconsin, where he has a family residing. There is no doubt but that the unfortunate man was in a state of partial intoxication at the time of the accident by which he lost his life.

Circuit Court.—Milton M. Phelps, Esq., an attorney from Ohio, was admitted to practice in this court on Friday. The State of Wisconsin vs. Frederick Ring; cause discontinued. Amelia Johnson vs. Henry Seach; cause discontinued on motion of plaintiff. A. Hyatt Smith vs. C. & N. W. R. Co.; motion to exclude answer of the defendant for failure to produce books, etc.; motion denied. Raymond Hitchcock vs. S. H. Culver; cause admitted to jury after four days' trial.

It is thought probable that congress will revoke the charter of the city of Washington and make the district of Columbia Territory giving it a delegate in congress.

..COMING ATTRACTIONS..

Mirth and wholesome romance are the keynote to the success of that quaint comedy "The County Chairman," which will be presented at the Myers Grand on Thursday evening, December 21. George Ade, the writer of this comedy is credited with exceeding his previous efforts in humorous writings and "The County Chairman" reflects life in the middle west in the early '80s in a graphic way. The types drawn by the humorist are said to be the most laughable on the contemporary stage. The plot deals in a very natural manner with a political campaign in Jefferson County, Indiana, and the stirring scenes in the county seat, a small village, where the hero, Tillford Wheeler, is nominated for prosecuting attorney, against Elias Rigby, Wheeler's prospective father-in-law, are pictured in all naturalness. Therefore Dabcock who plays the role of the Hon. Jim Barker, the county chairman, is said to give a rugged and remarkably true to life portrayal. He is aided by a score or more of large characters drawn in the initial tale of Ade's style and without that touch of exaggeration so often found in rural plays. An exceedingly droll character is that of Sassafras Livingston, the negro under dog of the village, ever ready to sell his vote to whoever will pay the highest price. George Thatcher, the well-known minstrel plays this part in an exceedingly true to life way. Will Phillips, as the breezy wind mill agent, who finally succumbs to the machinations of the town milliner, has a role filled with comedy lines. Zenaida Williams, as the flirtatious milliner who has met so many traveling gentlemen, and who is "just dead to see Chicago," makes every use of her opportunities. Another role which Mr. Ade has drawn with just gentle satire, which does not sting, is that of the village wise man, to be found in almost every small community. He is always remembering things that happened before he was born and from oft-repetition finally gets to believing his marvelous stories himself. In Uncle Eck, the old settler, one of the really humorous roles of the piece is given. He pervades nearly every scene with his "I remember in '823" Charles A. Burke plays the part in admirable fashion. Another comical character is that of the store box orator—a man who will declaim to whoever will listen to him on the impending ruin of the country and a man always ready to fight his country's battles from an oratorical point, but who is too lazy to go home and split wood for his hard working wife. Then there is the precocious smart boy, "Chub," the orphan girl "Gibby," the village store keeper, the station agent, the manager of the fire and drum corps and a host of other cleverly drawn characters which lend interest to the pretty love theme that pervades it all between Lucy, the charming daughter of the miserly Rigby and young Wheeler.

Henry W. Savage has given "The County Chairman" a production which it is claimed has never been equaled in pictorial beauty by any comedy in which there is no music. The scene in the grave where the rival candidates meet for a joint debate is a credit to the stage manager's skill. More than one hundred appear on the stage—the girls being dressed in light dresses and carrying banners to represent the different states—lends a color to the scene. The cast is all that one has come to expect of a Savage production.

The baby boy of Leon Dickinson died Sunday at the home of Robert Stevens near Whitewater. The funeral was held Tuesday at 10 o'clock in the M. E. church at Milton, the Rev. T. W. North officiating. The baby's mother died soon after his birth a few months ago.

STORY OF A DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION

Father John's Medicine was originally prescribed for Rev. Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., in 1855, by an eminent specialist.

He was very much "run down" and suffering from a very severe cough and cold, and this prescription produced such wonderful results in his case that he afterwards recommended it to his parishioners and friends.

In this way, it became popularly known as Father John's Medicine and many thousands have since benefited by this valuable prescription.

What with Nicholas Longworth, Nicholas of Russia and Saint Nicholas this is a great month for Nicholas.

John D. Rockefeller must wish there were a way to monopolize the business of issuing subpoenas.

Any pure food bill that associates with the senate should be careful not to let its morals deteriorate.

Mme. Bernhardt, who recently played in Chicago, is including New York and Texas in her tour of the provinces.

They are to have a whipping post in the District of Columbia. No, not for boodling senators—just for wife beaters.

Korea's emperor should remember that he is still at liberty to do anything that Japan positively insists upon his doing.

Korea testifies that the yellow peril is real. Being a yellow nation itself, it thinks it ought to be an unprejudiced judge.

While special pains were taken to let George W. Perkins down easy, the gratifying fact remains that he has made the descent.

Convicting one hunter of killing another in Michigan may make the man with the gun more careful about having accidents.

A meeting between Mme. Bernhardt and Texas is an experience which neither Texas nor Mme. Bernhardt can afford to miss.

Whether or not the powers get down gracefully is not a question which Abdul Hamid feels that he is called upon to worry over.

It will be noticed that the officials of the company waited till Perkins had resigned before telling how sorry they were to have him go.

That discipline at Annapolis is very strict seems to have been demonstrated to every one except the young men on whom it was imposed.

No doubt Tammany will declare itself eager to have the ballot boxes opened now that the courts have decided that to open them is impossible.

It has been decided to postpone The Hague peace conference. Just at present the czar is too busy trying to get up plans of peace for domestic use.

Government taxation of life-insurance companies may be a good thing, but the policy holder has a gloomy suspicion that he can guess who will pay the tax.

If the disclosures regarding fights and hazings continue, the Annapolis authorities eventually will learn a good deal about the institution of which they have charge.

No amateur Santa Claus should feel that his part in the holiday rejoicing is complete unless one of the articles in his pack is a fire extinguisher.

When the life-insurance officials who recently resigned wish to console themselves they have only to reflect on what might have happened if they had not resigned.

PHILIPPINE COMMERCE.

Commerce between the United States and the Philippine Islands seems likely to aggregate about 20 million dollars in the year which ends with the present month. While only ten months' figures of the present calendar year are available, they so much exceed those of any earlier year as to justify the belief that the total will reach about 20 millions, against about 15 millions in 1904, 10 millions in 1900, 4 millions in 1898, and a little over 4 millions in 1897, the year prior to American occupation.

Thus it seems likely that our trade with the islands in the year about to end will be nearly four times as great as in the last year of Spanish control, and approximately four times as great as the average during the several years prior to American occupation. Prior to the year 1899 exports from the United States to the Philippine Islands had never exceeded a quarter of a million dollars. In the present year they will aggregate nearly 6 million dollars, or certainly twenty times as much as in any year prior to American occupation. Imports from the islands, which ranged between four and five million dollars per annum prior to 1899, were in 1902, 10 million dollars; in 1903, 12½ millions, and in 1905 will be about 14 millions, or about three times as much as the average prior to American occupation.

This increase in trade with the islands is distributed through a large number of articles, especially in the case of exports, which have grown from $69,459 in 1897, the year before American occupation, to about 6 millions in 1905. A statement just issued by the department of commerce and labor, through its bureau of statistics, shows the total trade with the islands in each calendar year from 1895 to 1904 and ten months of the calendar year 1905. It also shows the principal articles exported to and imported from the islands in the ten months ending with October, 1905, and compares them with the figures of the corresponding months of 1904.

This statement of exports to the islands includes hundreds of articles, agricultural implements, books and maps and engravings, breadstuffs, cars and carriages, manufactures of cotton, fruits and nuts, hay, instruments and apparatus for scientific purposes, manufactures of iron and steel, manufactures of leather, mineral oil, meats, canned vegetables, canned milk, wines and spirits, manufactures of wood, and many other articles.

The imports from the Philippines, while they have grown from $4,352,181 in 1897, the year prior to American occupation, to $12,652,362 in the ten months of the present year, and seem likely to approximate 14 millions in the full year, or three times as much as in 1897, are confined to comparatively few articles, and up to this time are chiefly hemp and sugar. The value of hemp imported from the islands in the ten months ending with October was $10,376,528, or an average of more than 1 million dollars per month, and that of sugar $2,216,249. The other articles imported from the Philippines are up to this time extremely few and of little value, the next largest after sugar being straw hats and bonnets, $14,790; vegetable oils, $2,217; fruits and nuts, $6824; manufactures of fibers, $4,703; manufactures of silk, $2,486; while unmanufactured tobacco imported during the ten months was but $6 in value, and cigars, cigarettes, and cheroots but $1,795. While there has been a marked growth in the imports of hemp from the Philippine Islands, the growth in the other important article thus far imported from the Philippines, sugar, has not been strongly marked. The imports of manila hemp have grown from 2½ million dollars value in 1897 to 10 million dollars for the ten months of 1905, and will probably reach fully 12 millions in the full year. Sugar importations from the Philippines have seldom reached 1 million dollars in any earlier year, and in the present year will probably be less than 2½ millions, or less than 2 per cent of the sugar brought into the country during the year. Present indications seem to justify the prediction that the value of the sugar brought into the country during the year ending with the present month will be about 160 million dollars, and of that total the Philippines supply a little over 2 million dollars' worth.

TROOPS JOIN THE INSURGENTS

Riga Is Reported to Have Been Shelled and Set On Fire—Soldiers in Pitched Battle With the Unruly Elements.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 19.—The tide of revolution is rising. All the government's threats and all its physical resources have been ineffective in silencing the rifles of the insurgents or preventing meetings in St. Petersburg of the workmen's council, the acknowledged head of the proletariat.

Reports from the provinces show that the rebels are gaining ground steadily, and that fighting of the most sanguinary order is in progress in nearly every section of the empire.

The Baltic provinces, all lying comparatively close to the capital, are fairly steeped in bloody strife. Three hundred persons have fallen in battle at Mitau, the capital of Courland. The latest reports are to the effect that the troops at Riga have joined the revolt, and that the city, the fifth in size in the empire, has been shelled and is burning.

Hundreds of soldiers are understood to have been killed in the fighting which followed the dynamiting of a troop train at Stockmanshof, Livonia. Half of the reinforcements on the trains, which carried 10,000,000 in gold, surrendered to the insurgents, and Governor Rogenski's latest advances are to the effect that the remainder are in desperate straits, having been engaged in a four days' pitched battle with the insurgents.

The gravity of the Baltic situation is indicated by the government's action in practically stripping St. Petersburg of troops to amass a force to send against the 60,000 Letts under arms in Livonia. Only the guards will be left at the capital. It is rumored that the crown jewels have been sent abroad.

At Lenzewarden, in southern Livonia, the revolutionists liberated all the prisoners and shot Assistant District Governor Peterson and M. Maximovich, his secretary, and threw their bodies into the river.

Rebels Hold Country Districts.

Nearly every small town in the Baltic provinces and the country districts in hands of the insurgents, and sieges are threatened at many of the larger cities.

The little town of Wendon, fifty-five miles northeast of Riga, is panic stricken owing to the fear of reprisals on the part of the peasants, who are enraged at an attack made by dragons stationed at Wendon on a meeting of farm laborers near Tensen, during which ten laborers were killed. In other battles at Werder, several

Timely Suggestion

Now, we will suppose, for instance, that the financial income of your mother or sister (or somebody else's sister) is limited.

She has enough for most of her needs, but no extras, for such a purpose as "the fixing up of her teeth."

You have a better position and could really spare enough to make her a present of her dentistry, without hurting yourself.

You know what a mortification it is to her to have her teeth remain in such a bad condition.

Now, why not do the UNSELFISH thing and send her up to DR. RICHARDS and have her teeth all fixed up and YOU pay the bill.

It will be a REASONABLE bill if you select HIM for your dentist.

The work will be easy for her because Dr. Richards makes it his study to do this work painlessly.

And best of all: you will have a comfortable feeling deep down under your shirt bosom, of having done a HANDSOME, KINDLY deed.

Try it.

BOARDERS DARE TO SCORN FARE

AND JAS. TIMPANY PUNISHES TREACHERY.

COURT DIDN'T UNDERSTAND

This Feudal System and Fined Him $5—Sad Story of an Undiscoverable Drug Store.

What are the obligations and what are the rights, if any, of a boarder? Does he, by identifying himself with a given institution where three meals a day are dispensed under a relation of vassalage to the dispenser—the board-baron or baroness? If so, it is treachery to question the quality of the vassalage and secession from the domain of landlord and landlady is treason in its basest form. That is what James Timpany must have argued when he learned on Saturday last that Henry Kehoe and Frank Bell had decided to desert his table. Boiling with wrath and indignation he resolved to visit physical pain upon them in punishment of their outrageous conduct.

Not Good Enough for Money
When Messrs. Kehoe and Bell decided to forsake their fealty to the house of Timpany they went to Mrs. Timpany and told her that they were going to quit and that they would pay her the $4 per week owing at once. She pressed them for a reason and they dared to say that they did not think the board was good enough for the money. After that they returned to their work at the sugar factory. It was about eleven o'clock that night when Kehoe, sitting on a low platform and resting between shifts, felt the hand of the avenging husband reach out from the encompassing gloom and seize him roughly by the coat collar. The next moment he experienced the impact of a stinging blow delivered just under his left eye. Seeing many myriads of brilliant lights dancing in wild confusion, he struggled to his feet and struck out in defense. But the outraged landlord had finished with him. Skidding one of the buildings he fell upon the offending Bell and mauled him in the dust.

Fined $5 and Costs
Then, his punitive mission finished, he turned homeward with quickened pace. In municipal court this morning Timpany said "Guilty!" in a defiant voice when the court presumed to charge him with assault and battery. He admitted he had taken the law into his own hands, but expressed no regret. It would have been useless. No sympathy was to be expected from men who had never taken in boarders. He received his fine of $5 and costs amounting to $2.05 stoically and made no response when the judge said he was letting him off easy on account of his family. He was permitted to go with the constable to get the money, with the understanding that if he failed he should spend 15 days in jail.

Would Pay in Installments
Charles Ryder, an aged colored man who intermittently pursued the vocation of a blacksmith and who is reputed to be an ugly customer when he is in his cups, was fined $3 and costs for drunkenness, with the alternative of 15 days in jail. He begged pitifully that the sentence be lightened on account of his rheumatism and finally proffered a lonely dollar in part payment of the fine asking that he be allowed to go out and earn the balance. "I'm squashed, I'm squashed, I'll do just as I say," he reiterated several times. Sentence was finally suspended upon his proposal to get out of the city and stay out.

Never Reached Drug Store.
"I've never been here before and you may be sure I'll never get here again," said Albert Hanson as he took out a large roll of bills and peeled off a small one to pay his fine of $1 and costs. "Such a thing never happened to me before. I knew what my condition was and telephoned for a hack to meet me at the drug-store and take me home but when I started out I couldn't find the drug-store, while I was groping about someone appears to have found me."

TWO WELL KNOWN CITIZENS GONE

GEORGE C. FERRIS DIES SUDDENLY IN CALIFORNIA.

DANIEL SKELLY SUCCEUMBS

The Latter Passed Away at Daw Today After a Week's Illness—Confined for Months.

George C. Ferris, until recently a resident of Jamesville, is dead in Los Angeles, Cal. The announcement of the demise was received here this morning in a telegram to G. A. Crossman. The message bore no particulars but the end must have come suddenly for Mr. Ferris was not ill though advanced in age, being eighty five years old. The remains, which are to be interred in Oak Hill cemetery, will be brought here by L. P. Ferris and as the journey consumes four days the arrangements for the funeral have not been settled upon. Announcement will be made later.

Lived Here Many Years.

The deceased was born in Ciantanqua county, N. Y., June 11, 1820. He came west in the spring of 1857 and there took up his residence. Four years later he removed to Jamesville. Living here until the fall of 1875, he purchased the D. H. K. Whitcomb farm in the town of Union and made his home there for fourteen years. Mr. Ferris then went into the business of storing and selling ice, purchasing the equipment and routes of G. H. Garely. His two sons, L. P. Ferris and George H. Ferris were associated with him in this enterprise for four years, when Mr. Ferris formed a partnership with Henry Tall. This fall he sold his interest in the concern, which had been named the City Ice company, to Mr. Tall and retired from business. Two months ago he moved with his sons L. P. Ferris and George H. Ferris to Los Angeles, Cal., and there hoped to find a more congenial climate than that afforded in Wisconsin.

Six Children Survive.

Mr. Ferris was united in marriage with Miss Harriet Palmer near Aurora, N. Y., September 7, 1847. Seven children were born to them, six of whom survive. One daughter, Hattie M. Ferris, died October 23, 1873, and Mrs. Ferris passed away at the age of seventy-two on the twenty-sixth of April, 1897. Those left to mourn the death of Mr. Ferris are four daughters and two sons—Mrs. Louise Severson, Mrs. George B. Osgood and Mrs. G. A. Crossman of this city; Mrs. W. P. Roberts of Chicago and L. P. Ferris and George H. Ferris of Los Angeles, Cal. There is also a large circle of grandchildren and great-grandchildren left. Mr. Ferris was among the well known and highly respected residents of the city. Though well along in years he retained all his faculties until the last and was well informed on all subjects of the day.

Daniel Skelly.

After a long and serious illness Daniel Skelly passed away at half past six o'clock this morning at his home, 255 Fourth avenue. He had been in poor health for more than a year, but did not give up work until the first of last July. Then he was taken suddenly worse and since has been confined to his bed the greater part of the time. He deceased was born September 7, 1871, in the city of Jamesville and was a son of the late Henry Skelly. His education was received in the local schools and his entire life has been spent here. During the past ten years he was in the employ of H. S. Johnson. On the ninth of February, 1892, Mr. Skelly was married to Miss Louise McCue and to bless the union two sons were born, both of whom survive. They are Harold and Willard Skelly. Besides his wife and children he leaves a mother and one sister, Mrs. Hattie Butler of Gainsville, Texas. Mr. Skelly was a prominent member of Ben Hur Court number 1, Tribe of Ben Hur, and also of the Unique club. He was very well known and had hundreds of friends in the city who will mourn his demise. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

TWO PARTIES FOR PROSPECTIVE BRIDE

Miss Corevieve Shoemaker Hostess for Miss Strang—Misses Venable and Rogers Entertained.

Miss Corevieve Shoemaker was hostess at a delightful reception last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shoemaker, four miles north of the city. The event was in the form of an ante-wedding function for Miss Myrtle Strang, who is to be wedded tomorrow to William J. Nicholas of Appleton. The early part of the evening was pleasantly spent in games and at eleven o'clock a delicious three-course supper was spread. Following the repast Miss Strang and several musical numbers were rendered. According to arrangements the prospective bride and groom were the first to depart and were given a shower of rice. Among those present besides the guests of honor were the Misses Lucy Fox, Florence Maltby, Martha Spoon, Anna K. Smith, Ada Buckmaster and Jennie Cleland and the Messrs. On Friday evening last the Misses Sarah Venable and Edna Rogers entertained at a linen shower for Miss Strang. The function was at the home of Miss Rogers at 221 South Main street. The evening was very enjoyably spent and refreshments were served.

TOBACCO SECRETS
What Makes the Chico One of the Mildest and Most Enjoyable Cigars on the Market.

How many people, even among the most confirmed smokers, know what constitutes the difference between a strong and a mild cigar? It is simple enough. The strong product is so made that it burns badly, while a mild cigar is one that burns well—like the Wadsworth Bros. Chicos.

"These cigars," says The Smith Drug Co., the local agents, are made from a Havana filler, carefully selected, with the best hand workmanship, and as they burn freely with a firm, perfect ash and the result is a mild, pleasant and enjoyable smoke."

Six months ago the Chico was not known in Jamesville, but today it is the most popular cigar in the city, and is the favorite, although it sells for but five cents. Smokers who have heretofore wanted only ten to fifteen cent goods should step into Smith's Drug Co. and get a few Chicos. We know you will say, as do other fastidious smokers, that it is the mildest and most enjoyable cigar in the market.
